

There were a number of important events during the 1980s:

The new millennium brought in exponential changes as technology changed the way libraries and library materials were accessed:

